On Germany's eastern frontier there has been colsiderable outpost fighting, which would indicate that the Russians are completing their work of concentrating. There has, however, been no big collision in this region as yet. Austria is too much engaged with Russia and with the need of helping Germany to make much progress her campaign against Servia. No news whatever has been received of any naval movements, either in the North sea of the Mediterranean. The death of Pius Plus will be made tle occasion for another effort to bring about peace. It is stated that when the course meets in Rome to elect a new pope it will send an appeal to tr warring nations for peace and will ask the United States to aid i in bringing about traanquility.

DEVELOPMENTS IN EUROPEAN WAI

The Germans have taken Brussel the capital of Belgium, already rich in warfares' history and in art and culture. It was here that the Duke of Wellington danced at night and sallied forth in the morning to meet his army at Quatre Bras for the battle of Waterloo. Once strongly fortified, the capital for years had been without armament with which to resist attack.

The German army, it was officially reported last night, was pressing its advantage in Brussels by throwing large numbers of troops into the city, while the Belgians were retreating unmolested on Ant-werp, to which city the seat of government was moved a few the German victory at Brussels did not mention the casualties of either side.
